FOR PRESIDENT IN 1888,
JAMES G. BLAINE,
OF MAINE.

Subject to the decision of the Republican National Convention.

TOWN MATTERS.

The Commissioners met yesterday, and wisely deferred passing the license ordinance, and made an order which we publish in the local columns that savors of retrenchment. If the order is carried into effect, it will not hurt anything seriously. The town only pays a pittance toward the support of the night watchman, and the sprinkling of the streets. The electric lights will be missed, but the citizens can better afford to do without a few luxuries than to be taxed to death.

Reno has a healthy boom, but should profit by the examples of her sister cities. Virginia City was profligate in the days of her prosperity, and for years has been groaning under the results. Some of the counties of Nevada are carrying debts nearly equal to the taxable property by rushing into this and that without looking to the landing.

The cry, "on with improvements," is a laudable one, and the improvements being made here are the envy of our rivals.

The most of these are of individual enterprise and have solidity. The men that are making them have their bank accounts. This is all right. Improvements made at the expense of general business is another thing. "Rome was not built in a day." Reno is in her infancy. She is scarce out of her teens. She is not of the age to attempt to come out in general full dress. She can add more or less to her adornments each year. If she has money in her treasury she can indulge in luxuries. Till she has she should be content with practical necessities. Those who control her purse strings should see that the outgo does not exceed the income. If one fund is short a transfer can be made from another. A little judicious, healthy financing will see the town through till the coming year without adding any undue burdens upon any of our citizens.

William R. Morrison, of Illinois, has grown tired of his Interstate Commission duties. He finds them not at all to his taste. He prefers the excitement and bustle of political life. A friend of Colonel Morrison says that it is the latter's intention to re-enter politics next year. He has decided to contest for his old seat in Congress in 1888. He believes, further, that he can be elected. He says that it was not his anti-prohibition principles that defeated him in 1886. It was the apathy of certain Democrats in his district who were dissatisfied on account of the distribution of patronage. The men, it is said, staid away from the polls and allowed the election to go by default. Since then they have seen the error of their political way, so to speak, and have assured Morrison that in the event of his making the race again, they will give him an enthusiastic and cordial support. He believes in the sincerity of these promises, and feels confident of carrying the district next year by a good majority.

The Mormons have submitted in their Constitutional Convention article to the Constitution abolishing polygamy. The article declares that as polygamy is held to be contrary to a republican form of government is prohibited. Polygamy and bigamy are declared to be misdemeanors, punishable by a fine of not over $1,000 and imprisonment for not less than six months nor more than three years. Nothing is said about unlawful cohabitation, and it is declared that no legislation is necessary to enforce the article. The Gentiles claim that with prosecution officers, judges and juries all Mormons no possible convictions can be had, and the whole affair is a most transparent trick.

The Times' Washington special says: It is by no means certain that when Lamar goes upon the Supreme Bench, if, indeed, it shall be decided that he is to go there, he will be succeeded by a Southern man. The President has decided nothing in this matter. The vacancy in the Supreme Court, it is now thought, will not be filled before Fall.

General Rosecrans, Register of the Treasury Department, was taken ill at his office Tuesday. He was removed to his room, where he rested comfortably. His illness was mainly occasioned by the excessive heat of the past few days. He will probably soon resume his official duties.

Boston Globe (Dem.): Mr. Sherman is taking his presidential nomination in 1897 just as he took it in 1883 and 1879, a year before the materialization.

C. P. HUNTINGTON.

Charges of Bribing Congressmen Made Against Him.

WASHINGTON, July 5.—Steps are being taken—so it is stated—to have C. P. Huntington, the railway magnate, indicted by the Grand Jury of the District of Columbia, on a charge of bribing the Representatives and Senators of the United States. A precedent for this action is found in the recent charge of Judge Barrett to the jury in the trial of Jake Sharp, in New York. On that occasion the Judge stated that that was the first time in the history of the country that a bribe-giver was indicted, and laid down the law that in order to convict it was only necessary to prove that the bribe offered could be traced to the accused, no matter through how many hands it passed intermediately.

In his testimony before the Pacific Railway investigating committee in New York last April, Mr. Huntington acknowledged to paying out $6,000,000 to the members of both Houses of Congress in order to "explain" matters connected with the Central Pacific Railway. The Attorney General now has the matter under consideration, and it is believed that before many days Mr. Huntington will be given an opportunity to tell what members of Congress received this money, in order to show the explanation that was so necessary to the interests of the Central Pacific Railroad. The indictment of Mr. Huntington, if it be had, will be under the Act of Congress approved February 26, 1853, which prescribes the penalty of three times the amount of money in such case paid and three years imprisonment for each and every offense.

In the testimony referred to Mr. Huntington testified that a prominent Senator of the Pacific Slope managed his end of the line in disbursing the money required to effect the requisite explanation to his brother members of Congress. If Mr. Huntington can be believed, this Senator and those members who accepted the bribes will be indicted under the same act, United States Revised Statutes, Section 2,500, and are subject to the same punishment of fine and imprisonment.

DOUBLE LICENSE.

Sonoma County Objects to Paying Twice for the Same Privilege.

CLOVERDALE, July 1st.—A petition has just been circulated in this town asking the Supervisors of Sonoma county to repeal the existing license act. It was sent below last night and contains the signature of nearly every prominent farmer and dealer in the district. At present business men are forced to pay a county license as well as a township license, which is looked upon as double taxation in its worst form. Healdsburg, Santa Rosa and Petaluma have also got up big petitions against this double license, which will be repealed if the sentiment of the county has any weight.

The President Accused of Partiality.

There is a disposition on the part of the Representatives of several smaller States like Colorado, Oregon and Nevada to find fault with the action of the President in giving to the District of Columbia out of the present year's militia fund just double the sum that is allowed to these States and to other Territories.

It was left to President Cleveland by the act of February 11th, which he did not sign for fear of offending the labor organizations by encouraging the growth of the militia, to designate the amounts which the Territories and District of Columbia should receive out of the $400,000 appropriated, and he regulated the matter by allowing the Territories each the same amount as received by the States having the least representation in Congress.

This amount is $2,774.98. To the District of Columbia he gave double the amount, or $5,550.05. Up to this time this District has had no organized militia, and it is only by the most herculean efforts that since the national drill an organization has been partially effected so that this money could be used.

To cap this favoritism the President Tuesday made a detail of a regular army officer to act as Adjutant-General of the staff of the citizen Brigadier who is in command of the partial organization, and he is to help get the command in shape to spend the money secured for it. First Lieutenant Bigelow of the Tenth Cavalry has come all the way from Arizona to do this work. As such a detail has been refused to various other States, people who have protested against giving the District much of this money will have an additional cause for protest. Colorado, Oregon, Delaware and Nevada and the Territories, are all provided with good militia organizations and are outdone in their quota to give the District of Columbia this great slice.

Adjutant-General Kelton, when asked the reason for such an apportionment, a few days ago, said the only reason he knew for it was the fact that the seat of Government lay here in this District.

A LOFTY LEAP.

Professor Thomas Baldwin's Jump From a Balloon.

QUINCY (ILL.), July 4.—The much-talked-of leap from a balloon was made by Professor Thomas E. Baldwin at the fair grounds in this city to-day. Over 20,000 people witnessed the performance. Professor Baldwin ascended to a height of one mile, and then, holding his parachute, launched himself into space. The parachute is about 18 feet in diameter and was made of cords and strong silk. When the jump was made it was closed and the first 200 feet the aeronaut dropped like a rock; then, as the parachute expanded, the speed became less rapid and the aeronaut and his strange apparatus floated steadily down like a bird. It was a grand sight. The descent was accomplished in three minutes and twenty seconds. Baldwin struck ground with some force, but not enough to injure him. The descent varied about a quarter of a mile from a vertical line and the Professor struck the ground about a mile and a half from the place where the ascent was made. His attempt to collapse the balloon when jumping from it failed, and it sailed away skyward when relieved of his weight. Baldwin is a native of Quincy and 26 years old. He was for a number of years engaged in the newspaper business here, but for the last few years has been studying athletics and ballooning. He made a similar leap in California last winter, the distance being 1,000 feet.

AN UNHUNG TRAITOR.

Jeff Davis Still Allowed to Uphold the Rebel Cause.

NEW ORLEANS, July 5.—The Continental Guards went on a picnic to Beauvoir, Miss., yesterday, and in a body called on Jefferson Davis. Captain Drouns made an address, referring to the "day we celebrate," and mentioned the fact that the membership of the Guards was composed of both the blue and the gray. He invited the Davis family to join in the picnic. Davis replied in a kindly manner and said their uniform carried him back to the times when our people made sacrifices of blood and treasure for a cause that was dear to them. "We may not dwell on the subject, but you cannot avoid reminding yourselves, that you, men of this generation, through four years of strife and sacrifice, sought to maintain the great principles of the Declaration of Independence and of the Constitution of the United States. These things belong to the past. I do not seek to revive them beyond pointing out that you fought for the right and let your children know that their fathers were neither rebels nor traitors."

Kakakana's Postal Service.

The biennial report of the Postoffice Department of Hawaii for the term closing last March has been received at the Postoffice Department, and is as interesting in postal statistics as Tom Thumb was to anatomists.

There are but fifty-four Postoffices in King Kakakana's entire realm, and the salaries of their officials are not exorbitant, as the Legislature had to provide but $10,000 to pay all Postmasters on the Islands.

Carrying the mails cost but $11,393. The use of the mails is steadily increasing, but the number of native letters grows smaller every year, the increase coming from Portuguese, Chinese and Japanese that have been imported into the Islands to work on the sugar plantations.

The Hawaiian newspapers go free in the mails. The weekly average Honolulu mail amounts to 10,000 papers, and 40,000 in the kingdom, so that they seem to be fair patrons of newspapers.

A little over half a million letters are sent in the mails of the kingdom annually. There are twenty-five money-order offices, the domestic remittances of which in two years were $234,000, for which the Government received fees amounting to $1,818. The foreign remittances were $212,600, and all were made through the New York Postoffice, whether designed for any part of Europe or America.

COMMISSIONERS' PROCEEDINGS. — The Commissioners met yesterday afternoon to consider the passage of a license ordinance, and made the following entry: The matter of levying a town license in the town of Reno came up for consideration, and it appearing to the Board that there is considerable opposition to the adoption of such an ordinance—a portion of the public press and many business men of the town vitally interested therein, insisting that certain expenditures now being incurred be dispensed with, instead of levying such a license—it is therefore ordered that the matter of levying the license tax for the said town be deferred, and that on and after the 1st day of August, 1887, the following expenditures now incurred by the town government be dispensed with, to-wit: Electric lights, street sprinkling, night watchman and such other expenditures as can be possibly cut off without material injury to the town. Adjourned until the 1st Monday in August.

THE SWELLING GROUND IN THE MINES UPSETS THE SURVEYS.—Some strictures have been passed upon the apparent error made by Superintendent Patten in running the rescue drift to the imprisoned miners in the Gould & Curry. Surveyor Winkler, who is the great Comstock Surveyor, says if an error has been made no one is to blame, because the ground swells and moves so much that survey points are constantly getting out of place and becoming misleading. For instance four months ago Supt. Patten ran a drift which was done on a careful survey. Yesterday another survey was made, and it was found that the drift had pushed up nine feet, or more than two feet a month. A tunnel to connect with that drift would have gone clean under it.

During my absence in Europe Dr. Thoma will attend to my practice, also as Railroad Surgeon.

POOR "FRITZ" IS DEAD.

Old Age Killed Him—The Kids regret it—A Trick "Fritz" was he.

Possibly there is not a boy or girl in Reno, much less any old timer, but was acquainted with "Fritz," the smoking messenger dog. He belonged to E. Meyer, the well known tobacconist, and was noted for his great eagerness (dog eagerness) to amuse the little ones. His strong forte was his wonderful memory. His master could send him on any ordinary message from his place of business to his private residence, and no other dog, were he ever so large or ferocious, could prevent him from delivering the same. He died on his 11th anniversary which was the 4th of July. On previous 4ths of July he was in his glory among the small boys, and on Monday last, it might truthfully be said, that being sick, and hearing the joyful shouts of young America, and because he could not participate, that he died of a broken heart. One of the most noticeable characteristics of this intelligent canine was the joy he manifested whenever the gentle zephyr hove in and lifted the hats from the heads of inoffensive citizens. When one of them lost his head gear, Fritz would go "mit de vind" and quickly return with the wandering hat, much to the discomfort of the sportive wind. His picture can now be seen at the store of E. Meyer, on Commercial Row, where the photograph exhibits him sitting on a chair with a cigar in his mouth. Many a little urchin gazed on it yesterday; but poor Fritz has gone to "dog heaven" and knows but little of the high admiration in which he was held by the juvenile population of Reno.

PROFIT IN ALFALFA.—The Tulare Register says:

Alfalfa is one of the most favorable forage plants known to agriculturists, and it possesses a very important element of profit aside from its value for hay and pasturage. This is in the seed. The plant is growing steadily in favor, a larger acreage is being sown each succeeding year, which insures a ready market and good prices for alfalfa seed. Besides, it is a certainty, should the season be dry and other crops cut short. It is too early at this date to give returns of the crop for 1886, but there is every reason to believe that it will be entirely satisfactory. Below are given a few important facts in regard to profits in alfalfa seed for the year 1885. Names and addresses are given so that if the statements are doubted they can be easily substantiated.

We first invite the reader's attention to facts obtained in regard to an alfalfa field on the Artesian Fruit Belt Colony lands west of Tulare City. This alfalfa field contains 200 acres, but only part of it was allowed to go to seed. That portion which was permitted to go to seed yielded as follows: Three months' pasturage, worth $13 50 per acre; one crop, of hay, two tons per acre, worth $12 per acre; one crop of seed, average 750 pounds per acre, at 8 1/2 cents per pound, $63 75 per acre; straw, one ton, or $3 worth per acre; three months' pasturage till January 1st, worth about $9 per acre; total gross value of the alfalfa for the year $101 25 per acre. Here is another man's experience, Charles Powell, one mile northwest of Tulare City, has six and one-half acres of alfalfa, from which he cut twenty-two tons of hay early in the season. He then went to the coast for his health, and left the alfalfa to take care of itself. For the want of water only a part of it seeded, but from seven loads of straw he got 2,205 pounds of seed. Of this he sold 2,035 pounds for $72 55, paid $33 for threshing and $4 40 for sacks, and has his straw stacked in good shape for feeding. Briefly, then, Mr. Powell's alfalfa patch returned an income as follows: Value of seed, less expense, $152 35; value of straw $21, value of first crop of hay, $134; total net income, $205 39, or a little more than $47 per acre, with fall pasturage not considered.

Alford Brothers had fourteen acres of alfalfa on their ranch five miles east of Tulare City. The second crop went to seed. The seed yielded 614 pounds per acre, or 9,396 pounds total. This, at 8 1/2 cents per pound, brought $713 68. The hay crop previously cut was worth $140 on the ground and the straw from the seed crop was worth $70. This brings the total income up to $923 66 for fourteen acres, without including the pasturage that yet remained, or about $67 per acre, and the joke of it is that Alford Brothers had been offering their land for $20 per acre for some time.

T. E. Clark, of Tipton, had ten acres of alfalfa that he had cut four times this season, and part of it was cut five times. He pastured three horses on this field all the season and 130 hogs for three months. All this stock found abundant pasturage on that little field until Christmas. It is irrigated from an artesian well.

G. W. Wray, five miles east of Tulare City, pastured thirteen head of cows three months on thirteen acres of alfalfa. He then took the stock off, allowed the alfalfa to make hay, and got twenty-six tons. The next crop went to seed, and here are the returns from the entire crop: Twenty-six tons of hay at $4. $104; 11,568 pounds of seed at 8 cents, $925 44; thirteen tons of straw at $3. $39; three months' pasturage of thirteen head of cows at $1 50 per head, $55 50; total income, $1,126 94; expense of cutting, hauling and threshing, $228 40; net income, $900 54, or $89 60 per acre.

It is understood that the President will appoint a Californian to one of the Utah judgeships, but the meeting of the Constitutional Convention in Salt Lake City may defer his acting in this matter for the time being.

A VETERAN MUNCHAUSEN.

What he Says of Mormons and Pluties in Nevada.

A marked copy of the Elizabeth, N. J., Leader, has been received at this office. It contains correspondence from Major James McFarlane, who came to this coast with the veteran Zouaves, from which we clip the following extract:

Reno is a lively town with an extensive depot. Among the residents there are about five hundred Mormons, but they live more in fear of the Government than do those in Utah. They are represented as a very peaceful and industrious class, and they strictly adhere to the tenets of the Mormon church without placing themselves in antagonism to the law of the land. All through Nevada there are small settlements of Mormons who form colonies, till the land, and conduct business on the same principles that prevail in Salt Lake City. Close by Reno is a large Indian reservation for the Piute tribe. The Piutes are divided up into bands, each with a captain who is chief. They are the most docile set of Indians that I met on a trip across the continent. They dress very peculiarly, with long breeches, short jacket, sash, sailor-like hat with the wing of a bird stuck in the band. If you speak to them they laugh and express their delight in meeting pale faces. A peculiarity about

THE PIUTE INDIANS
Is the fact that their dead are buried in secret. Of all that have passed away since the advent of the white man into that western country, no one appears to know what becomes of the dead bodies of the Piutes. Members of the tribe move off silently in the dead of night and dig a grave, into which the corpse is placed, and it is unknown whether even the relatives of the deceased are given information as to his last resting place. All traces of the grave are obliterated, and only time and observations will reveal where the remains are deposited. The custom of secret burial is universal among this tribe. They are great rabbit hunters and fishers. They make hooks from rabbit bones and greasewood, which are said to be far superior to those used by the whites. I was informed that the squaws from the reservation go into Reno, and there engage with families for household work. This was formerly done by Chinese to a great extent, but since the introduction of the squaws the Chinese had to go, as the Indian women proved by far the more acceptable. It was something new for these free daughters of the mountains and canyons to settle down to service in white families, but the longer they worked the better they liked it, and as the demand for places far exceed the supply at Reno, they commenced looking elsewhere.

TO IMPROVE THE CAPITAL.

The JOURNAL concurs with the Carson Tribune in the annexed:

A well known gentleman, an old resident and heavy taxpayer of Ormsby county, referring to the shameful condition of the Prison road, part of which is in the city limits, and the whole in the county, suggests that in view of the small amount of work the prisoners have to perform, some arrangement should be made between the Board of Prison Commissioners and the county officials whereby prison labor could be secured to put the whole road in first-class condition, and make it the most agreeable drive in the State. If properly managed there would have been a shady road from Carson to the Prison, equal in beauty to the Santa Clara avenue, and even now, with attention, it may become within the next few years. It appears that all the work could be done without any other expense than the county procuring horses and carts, which could be very easily done.

It is further suggested that Prison labor be employed to construct a suitable sidewalk around the Capitol grounds so that at all seasons there would be a hard dry patch. The interior of the grounds is admired by all visitors as surpassing anything in the State, and by making the improvements referred to, nothing would be lacking to complete their beauty. It is to be hoped the Commissioners of the Prison and county will take instant steps to bring about the suggested improvements, and prove to the outside world that Ormsby county is awakening from her lethargic slumber.

In all negotiations of difficulty, a man may not look to sow and reap at once, but must prepare business and so ripen it by degrees.—Bacon.

PARKER'S MAP OF NEVADA.

PARKER'S NEW MAP OF NEVADA.

THIS NEW AND BEAUTIFUL

MAP OF THE STATE,

Has Just Been Published, and is Now Ready for Sale.

It has been completed with great care in order to make it being strictly correct, and furnishes a vast fund of valuable information regarding the topography of the State. There never has been a Map of the State prepared heretofore worthy of the name, and it is intended to fill a long-felt want on the part of citizens. It has been lithographed at large expense by the famous publishing house of Rand, McNally & Co., of Chicago, and does great credit to their well-known skill in the art. The Map is drawn on a scale of 12 miles to the inch, and shows all surveyed Townships up to date of issue, also all Mountain Ranges, Valleys, Rivers, Creeks, Brooks, Streams and Lakes; it also shows the correct position of all Indian and Military Reservations, and all Cities, Towns and Settlements; also all Railroads and the principal Wagon Roads. The County Boundaries are also depicted with absolute correctness, which is something that no other Map has even approximated to.

The Map is printed on the best of paper, and mounted with stick, top and bottom, with tape on edges and varnished; it is also printed on thin, strong paper, which folds up in stout covers for pocket form. The Counties are printed with different colors, making it altogether an ornament to any school house, office, saloon or private room, as well as valuable for instruction and reference.

The Map has been compiled by John W. Parker, the Chief Draughtsman of the United States Surveyor-General's Office at Reno, who holds the copyright, and is the condensation of all information on file in that office, as well as the celebrated War Department Maps prepared by Lieutenant Wheeler; he has also had at his command other recent and reliable data on which to rely, and the Map is issued to the public in the firm belief that it is in every way authentic.

The Price of the Map is $5.00,

And copies will be sent to any address, postpaid, upon receipt of the money. Parties ordering will be careful to state which style is desired—mounted or pocket form.
